PORTSMOUTH, VA., June 26.—Richmond pulled the game out of the fire in the ninth inning, and won from Portsmouth to-day by a score of 4 to 2. The contest was slow and uninteresting and lacking in features. Two pitchers were used by each team. Portsmouth out-hit Richmond, but made more errors, nearly all of which counted. Both of Portsmouth's runs were earned. Kaufman started to pitch for Portsmouth, and was effective, but lost control of the ball in the ninth, when, with men on the bases, he allowed two singles, which, with the misplays, allowed three runs to cross the rubber. Drew weakened in the eighth inning, and was succeeded by Eckstone, who retired Portsmouth in order.

WENT ELEVEN INNINGS.

Mighty Contest Between Danville and the Champions.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, VA., June 26.—The game here this afternoon between Lynchburg and Danville went eleven innings, the home team winning out by the score of 4 to 3. The contest was delayed half an hour in starting on account of a rain, and the game was heavy, but the fielding was one of the snappiest and most scientific that has been seen this season. There was hardly a play but it was on the sensation order, and the errors were very costly to both teams. Bowen carried the home team in the field, taking down the home team in the third, fourth and fifth innings. The game was tied at the close of the ninth, when Moser relieved Carter, and the game goes to him, making his record seventeen out of eighteen games. Howard, the South Atlantic southpaw, twirled a great game, and the Shoemakers were helpless before him until the eighth inning, after which he weakened a trifle, and they took advantage of it.

SOUTHERN TENNIS PLAYERS

WILL GATHER IN ATLANTA

Several From Richmond Expected to Attend Annual Championship Event Early Next Month—New Courts in Perfect Condition.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ATLANTA, GA., June 26.—The Southern Tennis Association's annual championship will be held on the courts of the Atlanta Athletic Club, beginning July 2d, and three, or possibly more, Richmond players are expected here for the big event.
For a period of nineteen years this tournament has been held in Washington, D. C., and now that it has been transferred to Atlanta, the local club is making every effort to assure the success of the affair.
A large sum of money has been spent for the cups, of which there will be many. The trophy for the men's championship is an unusually massive and handsome one, and the trophy for the women's is a piece of silverware. In addition, there are cups for doubles, mixed doubles, men-up tournaments cups, and the like, as well as handsome trophies in the consolation division. In all, a matter of nearly $1,000 has been spent in cups, and the array is one which has never been equaled in the South. All of the cups are up for the first time.
The handsome new courts of the Atlanta Athletic Club are in practically perfect condition, and on the day of the tournament will be unequalled by anything on which a previous Southern championship has been played. Every convenience, in the way of dressing rooms, shower baths, clubhouse privileges, will be offered to the contestants in the tournament at the handsome country place of the Atlanta Athletic Club, where the courts are located.
The courts, which are of dirt, are eight in number, and they are in the best of trim. They were laid out by a well-known expert and have since been under his care. On the day of the tournament they will be equal to any dirt courts in the country.
It is estimated that sixty players, from all parts of the South, will be in Atlanta for the tournament. It is not known whether or not the present holders of the Southern championships will defend. J. S. Davidson is the holder in singles, and Davidson and W. C. Glazebrook in doubles, while the ladies' title is held by Miss Marie Welmer.

Norfolk Did the Baby Act to Perfection in Roanoke Yesterday.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROANOKE, VA., June 26.—The game between Roanoke and Norfolk to-day was called after six innings on account of rain, the score being 1 to 1. The game was full of wrangles, several of the Norfolk players doing the "baby" act to perfection. Umpire Hoffman had to retire after the second inning on account of sickness, and Smith, of Roanoke, and Stanley, of Norfolk, were put in. Their decisions soon displeased Manager Clark, of Norfolk, and he demanded another change. Gray, of Norfolk, and Hens, of Roanoke, were substituted. The game was well played, and aside from the wrangles, was a good one. A double-header will be played to-morrow. The score:

VARSITY CREWS
READY FOR MATCH

Harvard and Yale Meet To-Morrow in Historic Race on Thames.

Thames.

FORMER STILL FAVORITES

Strength Admitted by Other Side, but Yale Has Bright Hopes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW LONDON, CONN., June 26.—Not for many years have there been such a keen interest taken in the Yale-Harvard races as that shown in the events scheduled for next Thursday between the blue and the crimson.

Harvard's varsity eight has been a slight favorite from the very day it came to the Thames River to compete in its training, and the speed trials of the men from Cambridge prove them to be an exceptionally fast crew. It is true, Cornell lowered Harvard's colors in the recent contest on the Charles, but the former eight was conceded to be one of the fastest ever sent from Ithaca. The race on the Charles was only one and seven-eighths miles, while the race this week on the Thames will be four miles exactly.

Record of Trials.

Since Yale's coming to Galen Ferry there has been no opportunity offered to compare her speed with Harvard's. John Kennedy, the coach, seemed averse to rowing up stream, as the big race will be down the river, and all of the Eli's time rows were made when the wind and tide were unfavorable.

Harvard's best trial has been in 20m. lbs. with a stiff northerly breeze and an ebb tide. This is the record time on the course in competition, but a Yale crew, in practice, is credited with having reeled off four miles in 19m. 47s. a few years ago. Harvard's second best time on the course was rowed in 22m. lbs. also with favorable conditions, but the direction was up stream.

Yale has had three trials over the course, all down stream and against wind and tide. Two of these times were given out by Kennedy.

The figures of the third trial were not given out, Kennedy claiming there was no record taken, and the eighth merely peddled over the course. "As a southwest wind was also blowing up the river when this trial was made, it was undoubtedly a slow time."

The rumor that Yale's circulation at Red Top that Yale's time for this trial was 19m. 30s. 20s. is discredited by many who have followed the crews in training from year to year. Kennedy's statement that he will explain, says the figures of this mysterious trial, is a fact.

Yale is hailed with considerable satisfaction by not only the Harvard contingent, but also by the Eli followers, who are awaiting the latest tips on the crews.

Four-Oared Struggles.

The four-oared struggles and "struggles" is a very appropriate title for these two-mile races are looked upon as unknown quantities this year. The Varsity boats of both Yale and Harvard have been repeatedly shaken up, in shifts to the eight-oar, and the freshmen have been indulging in a sort of go-a-you-please blade work, while attempting to follow the few words of instruction the coaches found time to give them.

While a close race is looked for between the Varsity boats, an even more exciting contest for honors is to be seen in the crews of the freshmen and sophomores. Harvard's fastest time, as caught by Yale watches, rowing down stream from the naval station to the bridge was 9m. 58s. 50s. while pacing the Varsity boat on a four-mile trial in 20 minutes 10 seconds. Yale's freshmen started over the Yale course, but the same favorable conditions prevailed. The Eli youngsters, however, went over the upper half of the course and rowed the two miles in 9m. 56s. 50s. The first half in 9m. 56s. 50s. The mile in 6m. 56s. 50s. The mile and a half in 7m. 56s. 50s. The two miles in 9m. 56s. 50s. Harvard's freshmen are credited with out-rowing the Varsity boat in nearly all the two-mile trials, which is not unusual.

"Jim" Wray, who is training Harvard squad, says that the Eli freshmen on the tide of the Crimson freshmen.

"They have got things mixed a little up at Broadview," said Wray. "That time should read 9m. 56s. 40s. for the freshmen, instead of 9m. 56s. 50s. There was evidently a wrong figure picked when the Eli freshmen were in the boat in black and white, and sticks to it that she has a freshman crew two seconds faster."

Admit Strength.

Captain R. C. Morse, of Yale's Varsity crew, acknowledges that Harvard has a very fast eight. "Our eight are doing all they can now," said the Eli captain.

"They are a harder working crew than last year. Harvard's crew row better than any eight I ever saw. They are powerful and big, and put considerable life in their strokes. Harvard will keep ahead of us all the way until the third mile. They will keep as close to us as we like to have them. I shall feel satisfied with whatever our crew does in the race."

H. Boulton, stroke of Yale's eight, also praises the work of the rivals down at Red Top. "Harvard has a fine crew this year," said Boulton, "but we are going to do our level best to win, and that is all I can say."
